

'Situation Desperate'

"The situation is really desperate," in those words C. R. Bull, chairman of the Kelowna and District War Finance Committee, summed up the local Victory Loan situation to his committee Tuesday evening. The remark was made after an hour's discussion in which all phases of the current campaign were considered. The discussion revealed that at that time the unit was slightly ahead of both North and South Okanagan units on a percentage basis, but it also revealed the fact that the district had been pretty thoroughly combed and that another $140,000 was needed to reach the quota. Worse, the committee had absolutely no idea of where $125,000 of this amount could be obtained.

This simply means that the prospect of the unit reaching its objective is pretty dim; it means that there is an excellent chance that this district will fail to reach its objective in the Victory Loan.

The committee feels that it has done everything it could, and is doing everything it can. It feels its organization has been better and it feels the canvassers have done a better job than ever before. It is true that the plain fact of the matter is that the going has been tougher than in previous loans, due to a variety of circumstances, and it is true that on Tuesday evening the showing of the unit was not too bad.

But always the committee was faced on Tuesday night with the fact that as far as it could see the end was in sight, and it was $125,000 short of the quota.

The sad part of the whole thing is that the money is here. The money in the savings accounts of the local banks would make care of the whole quota, probably three times over. Bernard Avenue businesses this time have been strangely reluctant or slow to buy; a new condition locally. Individuals, too, it is known, have bought only a fraction of what they are able. There is, for instance, the case of one man with a known seven thousand dollars in cash who purchased one fifty-dollar bond. And scores of similar cases in discouraging frequency.

On Tuesday evening the committee was discouraged and in poor heart. It faced the fact that the job was just about completed here but that the task was far from satisfactorily finished.

It faced the cold fact that Kelowna was in grave danger of not making its quota and that there was not a thing the committee could do about it—except to place the story right in front of the people of Kelowna. That has been done.

Whether or not this Central Okanagan unit—and the City of Kelowna in particular, for most of the rural districts have played their parts well—is going to reach its objective depends solely upon the manner in which the people come forward during the next three days and invest in Victory Bonds. No appeal in this city has failed to meet its quota in years. It seems inconceivable that a Victory Loan on the eve of invasion should present a real threat of being the first. But such is the fact. The only solution is for those who have bought to buy again, and those who have not bought to come to life and do so.

Clipper service is not altogether a matter of ships or air travel. The man who buys Victory Bonds does himself a clipper service in the matter of coupons.

It Is Not Good Enough

For some months, now, there has been a growing suspicion that all is not right with the reporting of Canadian casualties. Recent incidents in Kelowna force one to conclude that there is something definitely wrong in the Ottawa offices which handle the casualty reporting. There are three recent cases in this small town which have been handled in such a manner as to cause distress or anxiety to the relatives concerned.

A couple of weeks ago one local family received word that their son, C. W. A. was killed. Two days later Ottawa headquarters of the R.C.A.F. sent the padre from the R.C.A.F. Kamloops station here to tell the parents that a mistake had been made and their son was alive and well. Admittedly mistakes do happen and identities may sometimes become confused, although with numbers, ranks, initials, squadrons and stations all to identify a man, mistakes of this sort should be very rare indeed.

That case alone might be overlooked, though deplored. However, another Kelowna airman was reported missing and no further definite word has been received by his people here, despite the fact that postcards written from a German prison camp have been received here.

Again, a local officer was wounded in Sicily just about Christmas. His wife received word to this effect about New Year's Day, but no indication of the nature of the wounds was given. She received nothing further from Ottawa until two months later, when Ottawa told her that he had returned to duty on December 30th. In the meantime, fortunately, she had had a letter from the man himself which outlined his wounds.

These things may be small, but in each case it would seem that Ottawa has fallen down badly. If there are three such cases in a small city such as Kelowna, how many must there be from Sydney Mines to Port Alberni?

What possible excuse can Ottawa give for having letters reach relatives from Germany and Italy before official information from Ottawa?

We have every sympathy for those who handle the casualty lists. It cannot be a pleasant task even for the most hard-boiled. It is natural that every precaution for correctness would be exercised even though this means some delay. But in Ottawa there is a staff engaged on nothing else, and presumably it has every piece of equipment and personnel it requires. It must have a staff in the field and rapid communications with that field staff.

And still, obviously, things are not as right as they should be. Canadian casualties have not been very heavy yet. If the Ottawa department responsible cannot now handle the casualty reporting efficiently and speedily, what in the name of Heaven will be the conditions when the casualties do commence to pour in volume? Even the present conditions are just not good enough.

The Victory Loan campaign at this time is a little hard on Victory gardeners. They have to dig down twice. They are likely to not only back the attack, but also to lumbago it.

Cadets

Tuesday morning a smart parade moved down Bernard Avenue. The School Cadets were on parade. There have been many parades in this city but there have been few, if any, more stirring than that Tuesday morning. The naval cadets, the army cadets, the air cadets, and the girl cadets each and all presented a smart appearance and did credit to their school and community.

As these youngsters marched smartly past the saluting base one could not help wondering what Miss Agnes McPhail, who led a campaign in the House of Commons and succeeded in disrupting cadet training in Ontario, at least, thinks of the whole thing today.

Cadet training—be it naval, army or air force—teaches discipline and self-reliance. Important, too, is its teaching of co-operation, the art of working with others. In this country cadet training teaches the boys and girls to think for themselves and in this point it differs greatly from the training that was given the Nazi and Fascist youth movements.

No need to deplore our youngsters donning uniforms; no need to fear they are being brought up simply to fight. Important, rather, it is to remember that they are receiving a basic training that will stand them in as good stead in civilian as in army life.

It is too bad that more Kelowna people did not see the Tuesday parade and inspection. They would have had ample

Army And Air Cadets Make Fine Showing At Annual Inspection

Major Critchley And Wing Commander Douglas Express Satisfaction—Girl Cadets Drill In Real Army Style—Kelowna Squadron Presented With Flag In Special Ceremony—Air Force Party Arrives By Grumman "Goose"—Left For Vernon Wednesday Morning

HIGH School Army and Air Force Cadet Corps presented a smart appearance when the Kelowna detachments were inspected last Tuesday morning and afternoon at the City Park oval.

The morning inspection of the boys and girls Army Cadet units was preceded by a parade down Bernard Avenue with the Air Force Cadet Squadron 243 and the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets in attendance. In the afternoon, inspecting officers from the R.C.A.F. saw the local cadet squadron go through its drill and exercises with traditional air force precision.

The Army Cadets put on an excellent display of platoon drill after the Corps, under command of Lieut. R. H. Savary, had given the general salute and marched past the reviewing stand with military smartness. Major W. R. Critchley took the salute and inspected the boys in their smart battle dress and the girls in their white sweaters and blue skirts.

The girl cadets almost stole the show with their platoon drill which they performed like veterans. The platoon commanders put their units through their paces with a snap and precision that was an eye-opener to most of the spectators, and handled the drill in true army fashion. Female voices echoed across the parade ground with, "Pick it up there, 'Lift those feet,' 'Snap into it,' in a way that even a regular army sergeant-major would have admired. At the conclusion of the platoon drill the Cadets were addressed by Major Critchley and complimented on their fine demonstration. Signalling, first aid and physical training followed, with the boys and girls displaying a good working knowledge of their work. Lt. G. Fudge, Penicton, and Sgt. Major File assisted Major Critchley in the inspection and marking.

Highlight of the afternoon inspection and review by R.C.A.F. personnel, that arrived by Grumman "Goose" amphibian and landed at the Kelowna Aquatic Club while the review of the Army Cadets was in progress. Tuesday morning, was the dedication and presentation of a squadron flag.

Labor-Progressive Speaker Brands C.C.F. As Party Ruled By Political Expediency And Opportunism

Minerva Cooper, Secretary of Labor-Progressive Party, Tells Audience That Party Plans To Run Candidates in Vancouver East And Yale—All Efforts To Unite With C.C.F. Have Been Turned Down In Okanagan—Socialism Is Not The Real Issue Now

BRANDING the C.C.F. leaders as a party ruled by political expediency, crying blue ruin and trying to scare the people into support by picturing chaos unless the C.C.F. is elected, Mrs. Minerva Cooper, secretary of the Labor-Progressive party, stated last Monday night that a Labor-Progressive candidate might run in Yale in the next federal election.

The speaker scored the C.C.F.'s claim to represent labor, and told a small audience at the Orange Hall that her party had gone all the way in offers of unity with the C.C.F. only to be turned down and accused of abandoning socialist principles.

Her address opened with a review of the international muddling and appeasement of Fascist dictators that led to the present war. Identifying her party with the Popular Front movement of that time, Mrs. Cooper stressed that this group had been the only organization that had seen the dangers arising from non-intervention in Spain, in Abyssinia and against Japanese aggression in Asia.

The speaker deplored the antagonism to the Soviet Union at that time, and pointed out that an alliance would have brought collective security that would have prevented the war.

High praise for the Teheran Conference was voiced by Mrs. Cooper who stated that the decisions reached there represented the revitalized forces of the world building international democracy and unity. She emphasized that her party was not a group of democratic forces that was working for a lasting peace, unrestricted trade relations, and the right of every nation to work out its own destiny, but that it was a group of democratic forces that was working for a lasting peace, unrestricted trade relations, and the right of every nation to work out its own destiny, but that it was a group of democratic forces that was working for a lasting peace, unrestricted trade relations, and the right of every nation to work out its own destiny.

Mrs. Cooper disagreed with the dictum of the C.C.F. that failure to introduce socialism now would result in world chaos. She charged that the leaders of the C.C.F. were trying to panic Canadians into voting support and were governed by purely partisan conditions. She said that the C.C.F. was glorifying in progress and revolution without doing anything to prevent such a situation.

EMPLOYMENT SITUATION MORE SERIOUS

And Will Become More So, Selective Service Officer States

There are one hundred and sixty jobs in Kelowna waiting to be filled, according to G. N. Kennedy, Employment and Selective Service Officer for this district. Mr. Kennedy stated this week that his office had applications from employers for that number of men and those applications could not be filled.

Serious as the situation is, the prospects are that it will grow still more serious as the new labor regulations are put into effect. These new regulations now permit a married man working in a non-essential industry to be moved to an essential industry, even though that man may be moving out of his own community. Formerly married men could not be moved but single men could. Now the regulations permit the removal of any man in a non-essential industry.

Mr. Kennedy states, however, that married men will not likely be moved out of this district as it is an agricultural and lumber section, both of high priority as far as labor is concerned.

He does expect, however, that it will be necessary to move men from non-essential industries in this community to essential industries in this area. He expects that this situation will arise when the packing and canning season opens.

He states that his chiefs inform him that we are moving into a period of acute labor shortages to a degree undreamed of hitherto. Already the necessities of war require that large numbers of men and women have to be moved to plants where there was a layoff a few months ago. Ten thousand men and women are needed immediately for heavy shell manufacture. Packing plants are desperate for labor. They are pressing for men for shop and track work. Base mining is short two thousand men. Foundries and agricultural implement plants are short. A quarter of a million men are needed for agricultural work.

These and other indications point to the most difficult year the country has had to face in providing employment for industry. Over and above the problem of meeting the needs of industry, 98,000 men in top physical condition must be found for the armed forces.

The Labor Department feels that the situation can only be met by a more vigorous and rigorous approach to compulsory transfers. Less essential industry must be combed for manpower and people moved to more essential jobs.

Mr. Kennedy points out that all stores are considered as less essential industry, with the single exception of the butchers.

EIGHT HOUR SHIFTS FOR LOCAL NURSES

New Working Hours Start Tomorrow At General Hospital

Following the practice in general use in the majority of approved hospitals, general duty nurses at the Kelowna General Hospital will work a straight eight-hour shift, starting tomorrow.

Shifts will be from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., from 3 to 11 p.m., and from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Up to the present time the nursing staff has worked a 7 to 7 day or night shift, with hours off during the nursing period. It is expected that the nurses will work two weeks on each shift under the new arrangement. The new hours depend on an adequate supply of nurses, and it is hoped that the staff can be maintained at its present level. Hospitals are continually losing nurses due to call-ups for military service, and quite a number of the local staff have become nursing sisters during the past year.

CARSON SPEAKS HERE NEXT WEEK

Minister Of Trade And Industry To Address Board Of Trade

Hon. E. C. Carson, M.L.A. Minister of the Department of Trade and Industry, will be the guest speaker at the general meeting of the Kelowna Board of Trade to be held at the Royal Armory, Wednesday night, May 10, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Carson will be accompanied to Kelowna by E. G. Rowbottom, Deputy Minister of the department, and Colin Ferris, Government photographer.

In addition to the address which will be given by Mr. Carson, the meeting will see movies which the department has made of various sections of the province, including the Okanagan and some of last year's Regatta shots. These films have been shown in many parts of Canada and in foreign countries.

Mr. Carson is a forceful and pleasing speaker, and his message is awaited with interest by Board of Trade members. Business to be dealt with at the meeting will include discussion of the Kelowna-Westbank ferry situation.

Committee Is Concerned That Kelowna May Fail To Reach Sixth Victory Loan Quota

COUNCIL DIVIDE ON CORNER

Harvey and Water Intersection Under Discussion

A difference in viewpoint arose in the City Council on Monday night when the matter of the Harvey-Water Street intersection came up for discussion. This corner has been pointed out as dangerous and one at which some traffic control should be exercised.

A committee named to investigate brought in a report recommending that a stop sign should be placed on Water Street, Aldermen Sutherland, Ladd and Pettigrew supported this proposal.

Alderman Hughes-Games disagreed, saying that Harvey should be the stop street, and Alderman Jones desired to know on what the recommendation was based. Those supporting the committee's recommendation said that, in addition to Bernard, Harvey Avenue was the only complete east-west street across the city and that traffic should be controlled on it. They admitted that Water carried more traffic.

Those Council members who did not accept the committee's recommendation said that there is considerably more traffic on Water than Harvey, and that a considerable portion of it consisted of bicycles, which would not stop at an intersection, and this will only increase the very thing they were trying to avoid—danger. They argued that Water is now a through street, with the exception of the Bernard corner, and should be continued so. To make a stop street at Harvey would only add confusion. Harvey is not a through street now, and the placing of the stop sign on Harvey would only be to continue the confusion previously adopted. At one time there was a stop sign at this point, so why should this be changed now, especially as the Water Street traffic is much more than Harvey's?

Three years ago Water was designated a through street and all cross streets were made stop streets. This was even before the bridge was opened. To make Water a stop street now at Harvey is only to bring confusion to Water Street traffic without benefiting the lesser Harvey Avenue traffic.

Alderman Hughes-Games suggested that "slow" signs be erected at all corners. The matter was returned to the committee for further consideration.

INSPECTION OF SEA CADETS NEXT TUESDAY

Kelowna Corps Will Have Annual Review At Armories—Public Invited

Lieut. Commander McRae, the Area Commanding Officer, will hold the annual inspection of the Kelowna Royal Canadian Sea Cadets on Tuesday, May 16, in the Armory, 1818, at 7:30 p.m.

The members of the Corps are right on their toes for this event and intend to put on a really good show for the inspecting officer.

Parents are invited to attend, as well as other friends who are interested in the training the lads are getting. It is hoped that as many as possible will turn out.

The Corps will be inspected in the Armory, after which they will march past the Area Commanding Officer on Glen Avenue. Following the march past, the Corps will then go to classes and demonstrate their knowledge of seamanship. Surprise drills will be carried out during the evening.

On Wednesday The Unit Total Had Climbed to $557,000, or 83.8 Per Cent Of Quota—Committee Has No Idea Where Remaining Hundred And Eight Thousand Dollars Needed To Reach Quota Will Come From—Fear That District May Fail For First Time In History—Local Committee Chairman Says "Situation Is Really Desperate"—Four Sub-Units Are Over Top—Only Three Reporting Days Left To Obtain Needed Amount

Committee Says Result Is Up To General Public

GRAVE fears that the Central Okanagan unit may not reach its Victory Loan minimum quota of $665,000 were expressed following a meeting of the local committee in which the whole situation was reviewed. "The situation is desperate," C. R. Bull, chairman, commented at the end of the meeting. The story is, briefly, that while this unit has been logging along just as well or a little ahead of the other Valley units, the end apparently has come and the committee has no idea from where they will obtain the $110,000 needed Wednesday night to reach the quota. The situation is unprecedented in Victory Loan drives here.

In other campaigns, even towards the end, the committee usually knew where there were a few thousands which would be coming in. This time it is different. C. Oliphant, unit organizer, stated on Wednesday that he had absolutely no knowledge of any money that had not come in.

PHONE 658

If the Victory Loan canvasser has been unable to contact you, or if he has contacted you and you have decided since his visit that you should invest in another bond, pick up the telephone and phone 658, the Victory Loan headquarters, and ask to have a salesman call. If you haven't a phone, go to the corner store or your neighbor's house and phone. Or better still, go right into the Victory Loan office, where arrangements will be made. The point is, buy another bond today.

HEAVY BLOSSOMS INDICATE RECORD FRUIT HARVEST

Most Orchards Are Mass Of Pink And White Bloom This Year

This is blossom time in the Okanagan, and visit to orchards in the Kelowna district indicates that, with rare exceptions, there will be a tremendous crop of apples in most orchards next fall. The danger of frost is rapidly waning and growers are beginning to worry about labor for thinning. From the looks of the blossoms, the yield will be exceptionally heavy on most trees and a great deal of thinning will have to be done to ensure a quality harvest.

Plum and peach orchards also show exceptionally heavy blossoms and most pear orchards have excellent crops. The Okanagan never more richly deserved its title of "The Valley of Blossoms" than this spring, and the variations of color, from the palest pink of the peach trees to the white of the plum and pear blossoms, are breathtaking in their loveliness.

According to the committee, there are other "blossoms" which are not so good. These are the dormant savings accounts which have not been touched. It is known that in the banks here there are many thousands of dollars in savings accounts which should be in Victory Bonds, but the owners for this reason or that, good reason or poor, have failed to use "this money and put it in a better place, Victory Bonds."

The situation is a discouraging one for the local committee, which has done everything in its power to make the loan locally a success. It feels that its organization has been better than ever before and that a better canvass has been made. One committee member said following the meeting that "it is impossible to cope with the apathy of many people."

Four of the local sub-units have gone over their objective. Benvoulin was the first to have the honor, breaking through the quota mark on Tuesday, May 2nd. Two days later Glenmore followed suit, and two days after that Rutland also went over. On Tuesday, May 9th, Turn to Page 7, Story 1

JUVENILES SENTENCED

Four juveniles, who pleaded guilty to theft of an automobile in April, were sentenced this week by Magistrate McWilliams sitting as Juvenile Court judge. The two ringleaders were sentenced to terms in the Industrial School, and their two companions were each fined $20.

W. Jones was fined $25 and costs for an infraction of the Liquor Act, and J. Boorman was given suspended sentence on a vagrancy charge.

Three Kelowna Men Receive Army and Air Force Awards

Sub Sinking And Action In Italy Result In Medals For Gallantry

Three Kelowna service men have received awards announced during the last few days by Army and Air Force headquarters.

Pilot Officer Douglas Gordon Bush has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. Particulars of the award have not reached Kelowna but it is believed that the decoration is a result of the sinking of a submarine off Newfoundland. P.O. Bush was the air gunner in a reconnaissance patrol bomber based in Newfoundland at the time of the successful action. He has since proceeded overseas and is believed to be on similar operations from bases in Britain.

P.O. Bush is the son of A. S. Bush, of Rutland, and attended school in Ellison and Kelowna, when he was living with his aunt, Mrs. G. M. Phipps, of East Kelowna.

The second award for gallantry went to Sgt. Cecil Vincent Gale, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Gale, of Kelowna, who is serving with a Canadian armored unit in Italy. Sgt. Gale has been awarded the Military Medal for valor in the Italian campaign, according to a dispatch from defence headquarters. No details of the action for which the medal was given have as yet reached his family. Mrs. John Bailey is a sister.

A "commendation" has gone to Flying Officer C. E. Dore, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Dore, of Park Avenue. F.O. Dore has been on instruction duties in Canada and has been mentioned in dispatches for valuable services rendered. For the last year he has been stationed near Calgary where, in addition to giving flying instruction, he has been in charge of the control tower at the field.

FIRE WARDENS ARE APPOINTED

Junior Fire Wardens Will Assist In Fire Prevention

The Canadian Forestry Association announces the new appointments of Junior Forest Wardens for the Kelowna district. They are William Juessowitch, age 14, R. R. 3, Kelowna, and Eric Dunlop, age 14, Okanagan Mission.

These boys will be carrying on the Fire Prevention Campaign of the Association in this district. Not only is it the Junior Forest Wardens' job to be on the lookout for forest fires and report them immediately, but they are also instructed to "stop fires before they start" by warning travellers, school children and local residents to be careful with fires, smokes and matches.

These young wardens will receive special training in forestry, woodcraft, first aid and fish and game identification.

BOYSCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop Troop First Self Last

9th May, 1944.

Orders for week commencing Friday, the 12th of May, 1944: Duties: Orderly Patrol for week, Otters; next for duty, Cougars. Patrols: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Tuesday, the 16th of May, at 7:15 p.m.

We are glad to welcome home from his term at the University our former Patrol Leader Frank Black, and doubly so because Frank, in the interval between leaving again to join the R.C.A.F., in which he has been accepted, is going to give us a hand.

We quote the following from the last issue of "The Scout Leader," published by our Dominion Headquarters:

"Here is a new opportunity for an annual Boy Scout 'Good Turn' Sunday, June 4th, is International Shut-In's Day. In many countries an effort will be made to visit every person confined to their home or the hospital through illness. The plan has the approval and support of such eminent people as Prime Minister Churchill, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and numerous organizations such as the churches, the Canadian Legion, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, service clubs, and many other national and international groups. It has the full approval of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts Association. The sole object of the day is to encourage remembrance of the sick and disabled. Shut-In's Day comes at a time when most of us are able to get out and enjoy the beauties of nature in the great outdoors. To shut-ins this privilege is denied. Their lot can be made a whole lot happier by a visit from Scout or Cub in uniform. Scouts are asked to join in this nationwide observance and start this year by making a visit to a shut-in on annual Good Turn. International Shut-In's Day is Sunday, June 4th."

The British Army has fought in almost every corner of the globe—Norway, France, Holland, Belgium, Egypt, Eritrea, Abyssinia, Somalia, Madagascar, Syria, North Africa, Persia, Sicily, Italy, Greece, Crete, Malaya, Burma and Hong Kong.

What The British Are Thinking Of The Future Of Germany

— ARTICLE 12 —

The people of Britain are not forgetting that for the second time in two decades they are fighting a terrible war to stop the German people from enslaving the world. They are not forgetting the attempt of the German people to absorb the people of Europe, and they are not forgetting the air raids to which they were subjected in 1940.

Remembering these things, it is not unnatural that they should have some very definite views as to what should happen to Germany in the post-war period.

I found few people taking a mild and conciliatory view of the question. Some people to whom I talked, indeed, took a definite and strong view. Their attitude was that never again should Germany be permitted to attain a position from which she could disrupt the peace of the world. The British people are tired of the stumbling around in the blackout. And after five winters who can blame them? They have seen their churches bombed; their homes devastated; their businesses and trade wrecked. The women have been forced to jobs they never did before; they have been separated for long years from their husbands and their children; they have seen their babies lying in the streets mutilated by bomb fragments.

Who can wonder if the British people are bitter and are determined that it will not happen again; that if another score or years the German people will not be able to bring the horrors of war to a peace-loving people?

The British people are determined that after THIS war Germany will not be able to menace the peace of the world again. They are determined that not a plane or a gun shall be made in Germany. Industrially, they say, Germany must be allowed to develop, but the manufacturing of the munitions of war must be definitely out in that country. Not a plane or a gun must be made there.

They think, too, that an educational process must be undertaken among the German people. They must be taught the democratic way of life and that steps must be taken to ensure that the coming generations of Germany are brought up in the Nazi school. They recognize that it will be difficult to eradicate the Nazi philosophy from among those Germans who have been brought up in it from their childhood, but they believe that the future generations should be educated in a different school.

They think, too, that at the conclusion of the war, Germany must be occupied. They do not believe that the occupation need necessarily be a lengthy one. That is a lengthy one by the armies. They point out that with a powerful air force it would be possible to cope with any situation which might arise in Germany within a very few hours. Even though the air force were stationed in Russia or Britain. There can be little doubt that at Control today does not necessarily mean armies of occupation, thanks to the Scout. But they do think that Germany must be occupied, if for no other reason than to show the Germans that they have lost the war. One of the tragedies of the last war was that Germany throughout remained unscathed. That is not true today, however, because the German people know full well that they are right in the front line. They only have to look at the devastation of Berlin, or a score of other cities, the obliteration of Hamburg, to realize it.

The British people remember, too, that the end of the last war there was a movement from within Germany for parts of that nation to be separated from Prussia. And they remember, too, that it was the Allies which discouraged that move.

They are now convinced that that time we made a mistake, and it is certain that if such a movement should start from within Germany again, there is a considerable body of public opinion in Britain which would argue that the move should not only be supported, but fostered and encouraged. These people feel that if considerable sections of Germany were divorced from Prussia, that warlike section of the Reich would not be in a position hereafter to endanger the peace of the world.

The Future of France.

The British people hope that out of her present plight a strong France will arise, a France capable of taking her rightful place in the councils of the world. A strong France is desirable from the British point of view as it is always well to have a strong, friendly neighbour to offset the weight of the opposing team.

But France, the British people feel, is facing a long, hard, bitter and bloody road. A bloodbath of considerable proportions is thought to be the fate of the people of France before they eventually decide their future form of government, and its composition.

There are so many factions in France and feeling is so high that it is difficult to see just how peace and harmony can be achieved between the Pyrenees and the English Channel without a protracted period of almost civil war.

The problem of who shall govern France and what form of government shall be adopted is a problem for the French alone, and the British viewpoint is that they must be left to solve it. The British solution without interference from outside.

Once the French people arrive at that decision, it will mean a long, arduous road, near the end of which the assistance of Britain.

The British people are by no means sure that De Gaulle has the confidence and support of the reformers, throw in some expert supervision and out of it all bring into being a summer cottage that any one would be proud to own and many would want to buy. Oh, yes! The Gyros plan, saying their house. That is how they expect to raise the money they need.

And they will. Why not? It is one of the most desirable lakeshore lots, with a fine beach and a finer view. The building itself is well constructed and has an attractive plan. Wide windows overlook the lake from a fine large living room. There is an entirely adequate kitchen and nook. A bathroom is adjacent to the bedroom. To cap it all, there is an attractive fireplace. There is plenty of shade and a sunny beach. Every desirable feature of a summer cottage is there. Oh, yes, the Gyros will have little trouble in selling it.

But the most interesting angle still is the fact that the Gyros have gambled several hundred dollars and many, many hours of their own toil and perspiration on their ability to produce something attractive and desirable. That, plus the fact that, in order to finance their community work, they have shown themselves willing to put their own hard work into the doing. Any funds they raise will be as a result of their honest toil.

Three thousand food parcels for Indian prisoners of war, composed of special Indian foods, are packed and dispatched weekly from India House, London.

Q.M.S. Dennis Reid Marries Chilliwack Girl

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday, April 8, at the home of Rev. T. S. Paton, minister of Riverside United Church, Vancouver, when marriage vows were exchanged between Marjorie Catherine Wares, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wares, Chilliwack, and Q.M.S. Dennis Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reid, Kelowna.

She was attended by Mrs. Arthur Mellin as matron of honor, who was dressed in blue, with brown topcoat and matching accessories. Iris and carnations formed her shoulder corsage.

The groom was supported by W.O.2 Arthur Mellin, D.F.M. A reception was held at the home of W.O.2 and Mrs. Mellin for near friends and relatives.

Q.M.S. and Mrs. Reid spent their honeymoon in Victoria and are now residing in Vancouver.

Among those attending the wedding were Pte. Madeline Wares, C.W.A.C., Vancouver, and Miss Helen Wares, Chilliwack, sisters of the bride.

MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION MEET

The Okanagan Valley Municipal Association will meet in Vernon today, Thursday. The prospect of a substantial Kelowna representation is slim, it was indicated at the Council meeting on Monday night. Alderman Jones indicated that he would endeavor to be there, while Alderman Hughes Games said he would if suitable arrangements could be made in his business.

The last meeting was held in Kelowna, and only His Worship the Mayor represented the host council.

GYROS FIND NEW SCHEME FOR FUNDS

Put Honest Toil Into Scheme To Raise Money For Community Work—No Raffle Here

A new way for an organization to make money has been discovered in Kelowna. No asking people to buy raffle tickets; no pestering friends, acquaintances and strangers to take a chance on this or that. That is the happy discovery the Gyros believe they have made.

In need of money to finance their community activities, the Gyros considered a dozen plans and finally—of all things—they decided to build a summer cottage. And to build it themselves!

That accounts for the great activity on the lakeshore down the Mission road, near the old but short-lived oil well. It is there the Gyros purchased a lot and for the past three or four week-ends have been as busy as the instrument from which they derive their name, spinning lumber and stone and mortar into an attractive summer cottage.

An added ingredient is the honest sweat from a score of brows. The Gyros decided that the happiest way for them to raise funds for their community projects was to gamble their money for material, contribute the efforts of the club members, throw in some expert supervision and out of it all bring into being a summer cottage that any one would be proud to own and many would want to buy. Oh, yes! The Gyros plan, saying their house. That is how they expect to raise the money they need.

And they will. Why not? It is one of the most desirable lakeshore lots, with a fine beach and a finer view. The building itself is well constructed and has an attractive plan. Wide windows overlook the lake from a fine large living room. There is an entirely adequate kitchen and nook. A bathroom is adjacent to the bedroom. To cap it all, there is an attractive fireplace. There is plenty of shade and a sunny beach. Every desirable feature of a summer cottage is there. Oh, yes, the Gyros will have little trouble in selling it.

But the most interesting angle still is the fact that the Gyros have gambled several hundred dollars and many, many hours of their own toil and perspiration on their ability to produce something attractive and desirable. That, plus the fact that, in order to finance their community work, they have shown themselves willing to put their own hard work into the doing. Any funds they raise will be as a result of their honest toil.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE IN VERNON

Arrival Marks Beginning Of New Health Unit

A public health nurse, Miss Carter, has arrived in Vernon to take up her duties as the nucleus of the proposed North Okanagan Health Unit. Of her annual salary, amounting to $1,350, $710 will be paid locally, it was disclosed at last week's session of the Vernon City Council. Alderman F. Harwood said that this was the sum agreed upon when final plans were made last winter.

"Everything is being done to obtain a suitable Sanitary Inspector; we have interviewed many applicants," stated Dr. G. F. Amyot, Provincial Health Officer, in a letter to the Council of the arrival of Miss Carter.

"The reservoir was cleaned out last week and it is in good condition, practically no repairs are needed," reported Alderman E. B. Cousins. However, his committee is shortly to investigate the piping on the north end leak, where there are some bad leaks. "It looks like replacing some old wooden pipe which has been in use for 27 or 28 years," he stated.

Tests Show That Alcohol Is Satisfactory Automobile Fuel

Addition Of Ether Solves Starting Problem

With minor changes, your car will run on alcohol—when it's available. This is news, with less than an estimated 20-year reserve of known petroleum resources. North America, with 27,000,000 passenger automobiles, is planning a 1,250-mile pipe line to draw oil from the Middle East and we are working on ways of getting gasoline from coal and shale.

The first comprehensive tests of alcohol as an automotive fuel have produced an official government report which begins flatly: "Alcohol is a motor fuel."

Whereas oil deposits are not inexhaustible, a new crop of alcohol can be produced every growing season.

But don't expect alcohol to supplant gasoline as a motor fuel soon. "The simplest engine fuel today is gasoline," says Alex Taub, Chief of the Engineering Division of the Foreign Economic Administration, which ran the tests on alcohol while looking for a way to make motor fuel from big Latin-American crops.

Alcohol, too, is still on the list of critical war materials. It goes into explosives, synthetic rubber and many other war items. Much research remains to be done.

The tests were made at the Bureau of Standards with motor-car engines of three different popular makes.

It has been commonly assumed that alcohol made motors wear out sooner. It did, but it had been mixed with gasoline and a "blender" to fix the mixture. In the tests, alcohol not mixed with gasoline caused less engine wear than did gasoline.

The results as shown in Mr. Taub's report give ethyl alcohol (the common industrial kind) the following points over gasoline:

1. Less bore wear on the engine.
2. No adverse effect on standard fuel pumps.
3. No adverse effect on standard fuel pumps.
4. With ether or acetone added, better starting qualities.
5. "Sotter," slower burning, allowing a higher compression ratio and more power.

On the other hand, it was found: 1. Alcohol takes 3 1/2 times as much heat to vaporize as does gasoline. This is overcome by adding ether or acetone—both can be made in association with alcohol—to enable faster starting. This may mean, says Mr. Taub, that simpler heating systems may be used.

2. At first, distribution of alcohol vapor from the carburetor to the cylinders through the manifold was a problem. But it has been for gasoline vapor, too, because in a simple manifold, vapor reached the cylinders unevenly and resulted in uneven, wasted power until alterations were made through the years. But there is a pattern to this unevenness, and that of alcohol is the reverse of gasoline. Mr. Taub says a reversion to the manifold system of 15 years ago is indicated.

If your car were converted to alcohol, the manifold probably would have to be changed.

Ethyl alcohol can be made from anything that ferments—grain, yams, potatoes, sawdust, wood-pulp waste—even garbage. The question is how to make it cheaply enough.

AIR CADET CANVASS FINISHED

Amount Raised Entirely Satisfactory, Chairman States

The recent canvass for funds for the Air Cadet League of Canada resulted in $700 being raised in this city to further the important work of this organization, D. Chapman, chairman of the local committee, reported this week.

Of this amount, half will be forwarded to the central campaign headquarters to assist in financing the national organization and the other half will be retained in Kelowna to be used as needed in connection with the local Air Cadet Corps, which, operated in connection with the Kelowna High School, has already proved its worth in this community.

Mr. Chapman expressed complete satisfaction with the result of the canvass, saying it was evident that the people here appreciated the work of the Air Cadets and responded in their usual generous manner.

MAY INCREASE ASSESSMENT

Vernon Must Either Raise Mill Rate Or Re-assess Land

Vernon City Council is proposing to restore the 20 per cent assessment on land taken off during the depression. This would result in an increase of revenue of $5,796.81 for the business district and of over $6,000 for the residential section, or an average of $1.50 per household. "All will be needed for next year, if not more," stated City Clerk J. W. Wright.

"The Council must face the facts; it is either higher assessment or higher mill rate," observed His Worship Mayor D. Howie.

With increased expenditures and facilities used to the utmost with a bursting population, more money must be found, agreed the aldermen. There are 57 miles of roads within the city limits, it was stated, also

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Air Vice-Marshal Saunders, Deputy C-in-C. of the Bomber Command, has said that, in this war of wits between the attackers and the defenders, the attack becomes more difficult every week, due to the York's 14-inch guns. The courageous development in size of the enemy defences and the fact that 80 per cent of the enemy's night fighters are now on the Western front. Yet, thanks to the tactical ingenuity of Bomber Command, the air offensive continues to grow in size, despite these difficulties, and without heavy percentage of losses.

The problem in the last battle with the Scharnhorst was to get her within range of the Duke of Edinburgh's three British destroyers against the much heavier guns of the Scharnhorst achieved this end. This makes a remarkable contrast with the German destroyers accompanying the Scharnhorst, which made off and took no part in the action.

CODLING MOTH TRUNK SPRAY IS EFFECTIVE

Experiments Completed By Scientists After Long Trial

An innovation in codling moth spray control, which has been a seemingly endless struggle by departmental entomological officials in the Okanagan Valley for many years, was described last week by Dr. James Marshall, head of the Dominion Tree Fruit Insect Laboratory, Vernon.

The new method is called the trunk spray, as the spray is applied to the trunk of the apple tree, and the idea is to kill the mature and overwintered worm in the cocoon stage, when it hibernates under the rough bark of the trunk of the tree early in spring time.

To date, the trunk spray has been used in ten different orchards in the Valley, covering 42 acres of land, from Osoyoos to Vernon, and it marks the finishing touches to four years of experimental work at the Vernon laboratory.

"We hope to be in a position to recommend it to the orchardists next year. It should be of great benefit to them and can be made available at reasonable cost," Dr. Marshall stated.

At present his department is preparing to check the effects of the first trunk spray on the cocoons embedded under the rough bark of the apple trees. Shortly before the harvest season, another survey will be made to see if the spray has reduced the number of apples affected by codling moth infestation.

In training, British destroyers drill by hunting British submarines and drop hand grenades overboard to represent depth bombs. The "enemy" submarines indicate hits by sending up smoke-floats. Although the U-boat has been bested, eternal vigilance is necessary.

Asparagus Opens Home Canning Season And Is Easy To Pack

Now Is Time To Check Over
Jars And Equipment For Season

Right now is the time to do constructive thinking about the year's canning program. With the urge to save every particle of usable food, most women are looking forward to canning more fruit and vegetables this year than ever before.

The home economists of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Consumer Section, say that the first step in successful canning is carried out well in advance of the actual packing of food. It starts when sealers are emptied of the previous year's pack. When sealers are being put away, they should be carefully washed and rinsed in hot water. Each sealer should be examined to see that there are no chips in the rim or in the glass top. The proper glass lid should be put in place and the sealers closed to keep them clean. Imperfect sealers should be set aside to be used for jam or pickles.

Other equipment should also be checked early. A pressure cooker is most satisfactory for processing non-acid vegetables, but the gauge must be in good working order or it will not register accurately. If the cooker has been put away clean and in good condition, it should be ready at a moment's notice, but see that the pet-cock and safety valve are clean. A sharpened match or a toothpick may be used to clean the small openings. Never immerse the lid of a pressure cooker in water.

Asparagus is "in." Always a luxury vegetable, those who grow it in sufficient quantity to can are lucky.

Only the edible green portion of asparagus should be canned. Don't waste space in sealers by canning any of the woody portions. Asparagus with quick, therefore it should be canned while very fresh, within two hours of cutting, if possible. Pick over the stalks and discard imperfect pieces or those which have loose tips. Can only those which are firm, green and have compact tips. The long cooking necessary in processing softens the stalks so that loose tips break easily.

Cut the stalks just to the length of the sealer or can. Wash each stalk thoroughly, removing scales, as particles of soil may be held underneath them. In washing, great care is necessary to prevent breaking the tender tips. Sort so that there will be uniformity of size of stalks in each container. Tie in bundles of a size to fit the sealers or can. Cook, standing upright in boiling water, for four minutes. Remove string. Then quickly pack in hot sealers with all tips up except the three or four in the centre. Inverting the few stalks in the centre makes a firmer pack. To each pint add half a teaspoon of salt. Cover asparagus with boiling water.

With spring top or screw top sealers and with tin cans, fill to within one-quarter inch of the top of the metal band. With vacuum type sealers, leave one-half inch space. Run the blade of a knife down and around the inside of the container to remove air bubbles. This makes a better pack.

Put wet rubbers and glass tops in place and partially seal spring top and screw top sealers. Completely seal vacuum-type sealers and tin cans.

Work quickly and process at once. Allowing filled sealers to stand at room temperature for any length of time may cause a type of spoilage called "flat sour."

Process in the pressure cooker at 10 pounds pressure for 30 minutes for pints and 35 minutes for quarts, or two hours in the boiling water bath. At the end of the processing time, immediately complete the seal on spring top sealers by springing the small wire ball down and on screw top sealers by screwing the metal band. Never open a sealer to fill up the space at the top. Cool away from drafts to avoid cracking the hot sealers.

Answers to Questions About The Rehabilitation Program for Service Men and Women

Post Discharge Re-Establishment
Order

Q.—Under what authority are grants for subsistence paid to discharged members of the services?

A.—These payments are made under a Privy Council Order, known as the Post Discharge Re-Establishment Order. One of the most important parts of the programme, it has become known as the backbone of the re-establishment plan.

Q.—Who are eligible for grants?

A.—The grants are divided into five categories. They are payable to:

(a) Those fit and available for employment who are seeking work and for whom there is no suitable employment.

(b) Those following a course of vocational training under the Vocational Training Coordination Act.

(c) Those who have embarked on private enterprises, such as farms or small businesses and who are waiting for returns from those enterprises.

(d) Those temporarily incapacitated and unable to accept positions.

(e) Those furthering their academic education looking towards university degree.

Q.—What is the scale of grants?

A.—Single men receive $10.20 weekly and married men with their wives $14.40 weekly.

Q.—Is there any provision for children and other dependents?

A.—Yes. Provision for these dependents is approximately the same as the Dependents' allowance paid by the Dependents' Allowance Board.

Q.—What is the period for which the grants are payable?

A.—They are payable for twelve months, or the period of service, whichever is the lesser.

Q.—Is there any time limit in these grants?

A.—Yes. The out-of-work benefits are available only in the first eighteen months after discharge. Other grants must be applied for in the first twelve months after discharge or cessation of hostilities, whichever is later, or of a date set by the Minister.

Q.—Are there any exceptions of this time period?

A.—(1) Yes. Exceptions are made in the cases of those taking vocational training or furthering their education with a view to university degree. In the case of university education, students are eligible for grants on a basis of month for month with their period in service. There is a further governing factor, that of scholarship and effort. Students whose records justify it can be carried right through to graduation and outstanding students, if it is considered to be in the national interest, can go through to post-graduate degrees. In the case of vocational training, the training, where necessary for re-establishment, may be carried beyond the

Need Hope-Princeton Road To Get Logs Out To Coast Mills

It has been announced from the State of Washington that a road will be built from a valuable timber stand south of the border to connect with the Hope-Princeton highway at Cedar Flats. The Seattle Light and Power Corporation is planning a dam at the junction of the Skagit and Cedar rivers, and this development will form a lake submerging all timber in the area. Logging interests plan to cut the timber before the dam is completed, and route it via the Hope-Princeton road to Washington mills in bond. Use of the highway by the logging interests will mean a lot of traffic over the road and it is expected that the road will be improved and kept in first class condition as a result. The logs will be routed through Hope and Sumas back to the State, as there is no practical route to the Coast through United States territory from the logging limits.

TRAINING PLAN FOR WORKERS IS EXTENDED

Courses For Employees In Essential Industries Approved

It has been announced by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, that by a recent Order-in-Council agreements entered into with the Provinces on May 4, 1942, to provide training facilities for workers in direct war production are being extended to make available these facilities for the training of persons required in industries and plants producing essential civilian goods.

Training programs being operated jointly by the Dominion and the Provinces may now be extended to include courses for the instruction of skilled and semi-skilled workers to meet labor requirements in such essential civilian services as food processing and textile manufacturing.

The arrangement has been reached following consultation with officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, National Selective Service and the Vocational Training Branch of the Department of Labor.

It is planned to offer immediately foremanship and supervisory training, plant training schools and part-time classes in those centres where labor shortages can be overcome in part by training new workers.

Designation of an industry as an essential civilian industry for training purposes will be made by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to the Department of Labor.

DAMAGED TO AVIATION COUNCIL
The City Council on Monday night named Alderman S. Miller as representative on the now-being-organized Kelowna Aviation Council. The appointment was made at the request of the Kelowna Board of Trade which is organizing the new body.

CITY MAKES LOT CHANGE

Four-Family Dwelling To Be Erected At Water And Harvey

On Monday night the City Council approved of the transfer of the City-owned lot at the north-east corner of Harvey and Water to Miss Sylvia Sutton, who proposes to erect a four-family dwelling there. In exchange, the City will receive the Bernard Avenue lot next to the Scout Hall and $170. Two weeks ago Miss Sutton had written the Council, outlining her plans for a four-family dwelling, but stating that she could not erect it on the Bernard Avenue lot owned by her, as the noise from the Scout Hall did not make the location desirable for residences. She asked if the Council would consider a switch in property. After investigation, the above exchange was offered and was agreed to.

The $170 cash that the City receives represents two-thirds of the difference between the assessed value of the two lots. This is the usual sale price of City-owned property.

GLENMORE SOCIAL CLUB HAS LAST DANCE OF SEASON

Young People Present Gifts In Appreciation Of Help Given

The Glenmore Young People's Social Club, which was formed early last winter and has been under the leadership of Miss Nadine Mowbray as President and Andrew Clark as Secretary, wound up an enjoyable season's activities last Friday night by holding a dance and short program of songs in the school. About seventy were in attendance, several from Benvoullin's Social Club, and the music was furnished by Mrs. G. H. Mowbray, Mr. Kautenstrauch and Steve Woods. During the evening gifts were presented to Mrs. Mowbray, Steve Woods and Milton Carlson in appreciation of their kindness in giving of their time and talent as musicians ever since the club was formed. The Young People have accepted an invitation to attend a party given by the Benvoullin Young People on Friday night.

No person has yet claimed the sweater which was left at the school early last winter, although every effort has been made to locate the owner. This may be had at the home of H. J. Hansen. It is a perfectly good, new, heavy sweater, and if not claimed within a very short time, will be handed over to the Bombed Britons.

Mrs. John Eccleston, of Vancouver, is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. John Hurd, Jr. Her husband, Cpl. John Eccleston, who arrived in Kelowna with his wife a few weeks ago, is now in Halifax.

Glenmore's Sixth Victory Loan is well over the top. At the first of this week, the sum of $33,800 had been subscribed, and it is expected that several hundred dollars more will be forthcoming before the week is over. The quota is $25,000.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Loudoun, Sr., left last Thursday by K.V.R. for Victoria, where they will visit relatives and friends for several weeks.

Pte. R. Spier, who is back from Britain on forestry furlough and is now working at Nakus, left last Thursday to return to duty, after spending a week with his wife and family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hume and family have moved into their new home, which had been built recently on their orchard property in North Glenmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Molz and children and Albert Golding, who went to Lashburn, Sask., by train over two weeks ago, returned by car on Sunday. They found the roads in very good condition nearly all the way.

Glenmore orchards have never been more beautiful than at present, and have never had more bloom than this year, and, unless something unforeseen happens, there will be an enormous crop of all stone fruits.

Parent-Teacher Association Formed
A meeting was held on Thursday evening to organize a Parent-Teacher Association in Peachland. It was attended by Mrs. R. W. Haggen, of Roseland, Vice-President of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation, Mrs. J. H. Black and Mrs. Unwin, of Penitence.

Mrs. Haggen addressed the meeting, telling of the aims and objectives of the organization. She said the purpose of the Parent-Teacher Association is to secure the co-operation of parents, teachers and other adult citizens in all that concerns the education and welfare of children and youth, and does not in any way interfere with the administration of the school. Personal grievances are adjusted in private conference and an association meeting is not a clearing house for them. The Association is educational, non-commercial, non-sectarian, non-partisan, and co-operates with other organizations interested in child welfare.

Mrs. B. F. Gummow then took the chair as temporary chairman, with Mrs. Unwin as secretary, and the following officers were elected for the Peachland Parent-Teacher Association: Honorary President, Miss E. M. Roberts; President, Mrs. F. E. Wright; Vice-President, Mrs. W. H. Sutherland; Secretary, Mrs. F. Gaynor; Treasurer, Mrs. H. D. Brown; Membership, Mrs. T. Twinn; Ways and Means, Mrs. J. G. WESTBANK

L. D. Hitchner left early this week for the Coast, where he will spend a week's visit with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamblly, of North Vancouver.

At the last regular meeting of the Westbank Women's Institute, a report from the representative of the Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. A. C. Hoskins, was read by the Institute's Treasurer, Mrs. R. J. Lynn. Mrs. Hoskins reported her success in collecting $51 from Westbank citizens for the redecoration of the Westbank ward of the Kelowna Hospital. Mrs. Hoskins also reported that a ward has been beautifully decorated and is indeed a credit to Westbank.

On a recent Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gates had as their visitors from Kelowna Mr. and Mrs. Crete Shireff, Mrs. G. Edwards and Miss Audrey Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins moved last week to their new home, the former residence of Mr. and Mrs. Syd. Mackay. Mr. Hopkins is owner of the Westbank Garage, so any one needing his services after the move will find the new residence convenient for a call.

T. B. Reece has added a large hot-house to his equipment, aiming at yielding it near the cold storage, and he plans to start vegetable plants in it for his acreage.

At George Walker's logging camp, west of Westbank, a recent accident resulted in a broken elbow and severely lacerated face for one of the loggers, Fred Pop, of Boucherville. A falling tree struck him in the elbow, knocking him down on to a rough log and skinning his face. First aid was given by George Walker and the injured man was taken to the Kelowna Hospital, where he was confined for several days.

A glorious display of peach blossom was on view the past week on the T. B. Reece farm, where a dense block of young peach trees stood decked in their spring finery. Further up the hill, peach trees, mixing their strawberry ice cream tints with alternate rows of dazzlingly white pear blossoms in the Ovie orchard, were on display. Cherry blossoms foretelling a bumper crop are falling, and apple blossoms are showing their delicate hues in other Westbank orchards. Altogether, an enormous crop is forecast for this season. A lack of skilled pickers, sorters and packing house workers is the sore worry of farmers here.

Unless much more rain falls in the next few weeks before hay cutting begins, hay will be scarce next winter. In the dry farming areas, the grasses which intermingle the alfalfa crops are already yellowing from drought.

Bee beginners in Westbank and Glenora, examining their hives, have discovered in most cases that the hives are filled with stored syrup, bee bread and capped brood. Bees are clustered around the outside frames as if lacking room to expand, so most owners have placed their second super on to the hive. Bees are very busy collecting their pollen and nectar from the plentiful blossoms blooming just now. In addition to the fruit tree blossoms, Saskatoon, wild strawberries, sunflowers, dandelions, lilies and mayflowers are adding to the harvest for the bees to garner. A visit from the bees to garner. A visit from the bees to garner.

The week-end at her home in Summerland.

Cards and Bingo were the attractions at a party given by the members of the Canadian Legion, in the Legion Hall, on Friday evening. Two prizes were given and were won by Mrs. A. J. Chidley and John Lang. A lot of amusement was enjoyed in the six or seven turns of Bingo, and refreshments were then served by the ladies of the W.A. to the Legion. The proceeds of the evening were devoted to the cigarette fund for the boys overseas.

The Peachland Bakery has again changed hands, and has been taken over by Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fuls.

AQUATIC CHANGE OKAYED BY CITY

The City Council on Monday night gave its paternal approval to the switch that had recently taken place in the organization handling the Aquatic. A letter from the secretary pointed out that, as a result of the unanimous approval of the old shareholders, the limited liability company had been wiped out and the organization will now operate under the Societies Act. The letter expressed the hope that the City Council would approve of the move. This the Council did, after some discussion about the writing of a new lease for the premises, which are owned by the City and leased to the Aquatic organization. The lease apparently had lapsed some time ago.

Since the exploitation of forests began, from four to five times the amount of timber used has been burned through forest fires.

Mr. Turnbull, Provincial Apiarist, is imminent, when the entire district will undergo a clean-up of diseased hives. It is illegal in British Columbia for any one to own bees without registering, free of cost, as an apiarist.

Mrs. Jack Maddock is visiting at the Coast for the next few weeks.

Bill Dawson, brother of one of Westbank's school teachers, Miss Lois Dawson, arrived recently in Westbank and has been staying at the home of Mrs. M. E. G. Pritchard.

J. J. Rouse, veteran evangelist from Calgary, has been holding a few meetings at the Highway Gospel Hall recently.

Mr. Downing, of Kelowna, has arrived in Westbank to take the position of Forestry Ranger for this district for the coming year. Earl Lundin, who acted in this capacity last summer, has resigned owing to the illness of his father and is working on his home orchard.

Mrs. LaPeyre, Sr., left last week to spend a few weeks vacation with her sister.

THE LOGGER

His lusty battle cry of "T-I-M-B-E-R-I!" echoes throughout our interior forests, where the strokes of his axe help to sound the death knell of our enemies.

To help meet today's needs of the millions of feet of lumber that goes into barracks and war-essential construction, he's working all-out to keep the pine, the hemlock, the cedar, spruce and tamarack rolling from forest to mill.

His axe struck deep in Scottish forests for three critical years, while he served overseas in the Canadian Forestry Corps. In the Motherland's darkest hour every foot of lumber played its part in the Battle of Britain.

He's a big man doing a big job—bringing out the wood we need to win.

THANK YOU CANADA ... but there's still a WAR JOB to do!

OFFICE OF THE MINISTER
CANADA
DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL WAR SERVICES

To my fellow Canadians:—

You the citizens of Canada and members of the Voluntary Salvage Committees and many other Voluntary War Workers have done an excellent war job.

Canada, in doing her part to help win the war, has been greatly assisted by your voluntary and unselfish devotion to the important duty of saving and turning in the essential war materials. You have backed up the boys overseas and tide of battle against the enemy. When Canada's stock piles have been dangerously low, you have discovered, saved, and salvaged waste material which has been turned into weapons, ammunition, explosives and containers. Your Salvage Campaigns have been Nation-wide and of national importance. Your job has been a big one which you have nobly performed.

When at war the past is the past and we must look to the future. Again I appeal to you!

There is another National War emergency which must be met and overcome. Experts on the matter have assured me that there is a critical shortage of Waste Paper and that the situation is desperate. War supplies must reach our fighting forces who will use them against the enemy. War supplies must be safely packed. As we march on nearer to the enemy more supplies are required by our Fighting Men. More and more Waste Paper is wanted now.

Paperboard mills are working on a day-to-day basis and some are facing shut-downs because reserve stock supplies of Waste Paper are critically low. Waste paper is to be saved and turned in to the Nation through regular Waste Paper channels.

Fellow Canadians please help!

Yours sincerely,

L. M. LaFlèche

L. R. LaFlèche,
Minister, National War Services.

CANADA NEEDS 20,000 TONS OF WASTE PAPER EVERY MONTH

WHAT IS WANTED: You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—store bags—cardboard—cartons—corrugated board—old magazines and books—envelopes and letters—newspapers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT: Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or sell it through any known trade channels, your pedlar or others. The important thing is to get your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

The story stars as "Aladdin" Miss Beth Gillanders, who is a former resident of Kelowna when she was a member of the teaching staff. Dancing, singing and humor intermingle in the story of the magic lamp, which found its way from Ararat, after the last war, to the home of Widow Chlorine Twankey in the Okanagan. "Aladdin" is her son, and Miss Gillanders' performance was highly praised when the show was produced recently in Vernon. Betty Cross, promising Kelowna dancer, is also in the cast along with vocalists Vivian Kennedy, Irene Haros, Vivian French and Stan Lettner.

1st Kelowna Girl Guide Company

Orders for week:
Next Rally this evening, Thursday, May 11, at 7:00 p.m., in the Scout Hall, Orderly Patrol, Orioles.

Last Thursday there was almost a full attendance. We reviewed the Morse code, had a good practice of the marching and made final arrangements for the Rally on the following Saturday.

We welcomed the Provincial Commissioner, Miss Illingworth, and the Director of Training, Miss Hannah, at the Scout Hall, which had been decorated effectively for the occasion by the Bluebirds, at 4:00 p.m., the Hummingbirds and the Larks forming a guard of honor for their respective Guides.

Miss Illingworth and Miss Hannah have visited us before but not in their present capacity. We had a fine attendance and are indeed grateful to the kind friends who helped with the transportation.

The program went off well, over seventy Brownies and eighty Guides taking part. Included were the Kelowna Company and Pack, Captain Brown and Brown Owl Mrs. Green; the Rutland Company, acting Captain and Lieut. Miss Spears and Miss Henderson; the Rutland Pack, Miss Black, Brown Owl and Miss A. Edwards, Tawny Owl; the Okanagan Mission Company, acting Guides Miss Betty Davis and Miss N. Cousins, and the Winfield Pack, with Mrs. G. Shaw as the Brown Owl. They all showed excellent training and enjoyment in their performances.

The Brownies gave the first part of the program. Their Fairy Ring was a very large one and filled the floor of the Hall. They all sang their little rhymes, and the Kelowna Pack gave a singing game, "The Ten Little Brown Girls," which was quite amusing. The Rutland Brownies sang another singing game very well, the words being very clear, "Did you ever see a Brownie?" The Winfield Pack did a "Victory March," which showed good precision for such small people. The forming of the "Pow Wow" ring concluded the Brownies' part of the program, Miss Illingworth speaking to them about their motto, "Lend a Hand," and telling them how pleased she was to see so many Brownies present.

The Guides' program commenced with the patrol formation and a march by the Kelowna Guides. The Guide Laws were demonstrated by each patrol acting on one of the laws, some of which representations were quite humorous. These were interspersed with some folk dances, all joining in two of them. The Rutland Company danced the "Clapping Dance" and the Kelowna Company, "Tantoli." As a grand finale, the "Horseshoe" was formed by all the Guides present, and Miss Illingworth enroled the Rutland Guides, Miss Spears, Miss Henderson and Miss Black. Miss Edwards was a former Brownie and Guide of the Kelowna Company.

Miss Hannah presented the following proficiency badges: P.L. Sharon West, Child Nurse and Cook; Maureen Fowler, Cook and Laundry; Jill Whowell, Traveller Hostess; Clerk Artist; Beryl Ross, Cook and Needlewoman, and to Esther Hornberger the Second Class badge. Miss Illingworth again expressed her pleasure at so many being present and at the appearance of the companies, and voiced the gratitude of us all to the friends who brought in the Guides and Brownies and made the Rally possible. She also spoke of how important it was to live up to the Guide Law and to be really "Prepared."

In the evening Miss Hannah conducted a training class for Guides, Patrol Leaders and Seconds, which was well attended and was much enjoyed and much useful instruction was given.

On Sunday afternoon we met again in the Captain's garden and had another pleasant time together, and we were indeed regretful that Miss Illingworth and Miss Hannah had to leave the next day to continue their tour of the province.

During the week several First Class tests have been passed, including: Hiker, Jill Whowell, Beryl Ross and Mary Walker; First Aid,

P. L. Jane Weddell and Anne Aitkens. The Patrol standing for the week is as follows: Hummingbirds first with 88 points, Bluebirds 66, Canaries 64, Larks 48, Nightingales 47, and Orioles 38 points. We are pleased to note that all patrols attended to their duties well in connection with the Rally, and arrangements went smoothly.

RUTLAND CADETS ARE INSPECTED

High School Corps Go Through Paces Before Major Critchley Last Tuesday

The Rutland Cadet Corps, seven-ty-six strong, paraded on the school field on Tuesday afternoon, May 9, for inspection by Major W. R. Critchley, Chief Cadet Officer for B.C. The corps, under the command of Harold Zimmerman, made a very fine showing, and the girls' company marched particularly well. In addition to the march past and the inspection, there were demonstrations of first aid, map reading, rifle practice and other features of the cadet training program. The corps earned praise from the inspecting officer for the keenness and knowledge shown. The weather was inclement, and a cold, gusty wind made the affair a chilly one for the spectators. Accompanying the inspecting officer were Lieut. Fudge, of Sumnerland, and Sgt.-Major Filer.

Rutland High School pupils held an enjoyable hike to Poplar Point, on Okanagan Lake, north of Kelowna, last Sunday afternoon and evening. Rutland has gone over the top in the Sixth Victory Loan campaign, the $30,000 objective being passed on Saturday, when over $5,000 was subscribed to push the total up to $32,750. Since that time the Rutland sales have reached the 120 per cent mark. This is a source of great satisfaction to residents, and the exceptionally large number of applications for a gratifying, as it indicates a very large measure of support by the community, rather than large purchases by a few buyers.

Flying Officer Cliff Schell, who graduated recently from the R.C. A.F. Flying School of Portage La Prairie, arrived home on leave on Monday. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. W. F. Schell, who had attended the graduating ceremonies.

Joe Casorso recently purchased the Dick house on the Belgo, is having it renovated and will take up residence there in the near future.

The sympathy of residents is extended to Steve Kornze in the tragic loss of his young wife, who passed away after an operation on Friday last. She had been a patient in Tranquille Sanatorium for some years off and on. Funeral services were held in the Rutland R.C. Church on Tuesday morning. Rev. Father deLestre officiating. Interment was in the local Roman Catholic Cemetery on the Glenmore road.

Bryan McKenzie, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray McKenzie, is a patient in the Kelowna Hospital, where he underwent a minor operation on Tuesday morning.

Frank Wostrowski and family have moved to residence in the former Wm. Hardie house, having purchased the orchard from his brother Fred.

There will be special services at the Sunday School and the evening church service at the Rutland United Church on Sunday next in observation of Mother's Day.

The local Girl Guide Company and the Brownie Pack attended the Girls' Rally at the Kelowna on Saturday afternoon, May 6. The Patrol Leaders and Seconds were supper guests of the Kelowna Company and attended the evening session.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Berard have returned to the district, the former having received his discharge from the Army.

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do A Good Turn Daily"

Orders for the week ending May 20. The Troop will parade in the Community Hall on Monday, May 15, at 7:30 p.m., for a rehearsal of the coming concert. Additional rehearsals will be held during the week. The Troop will parade in the Community Hall on Friday, May 19, the night of the concert, at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

The Troop has been concentrating on rehearsals these days, but some Scouts have found time to pass tests. Scout Ronald Standish recently earned the important Pathfinder badge and passed his First Class mapping test with an excellent map of the Rutland district.

LAST RITES FOR PIONEER FRIDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Christina McLennan, wife of the late Alec McLennan, pioneer resident of the Kelowna district, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from the Kelowna First United Church.

Mrs. McLennan passed away at High River, Alta., on May 8 and was being brought to Kelowna for interment in the Kelowna Cemetery.

The family farmed what is now known as the Yon property on the west side of the city for many years ago. One son, Donald E., in the forces, and a daughter, Mrs. Annie McLennan, survive.

C.R.C.C.

Members of the Corps will work in the T.O.C. Rooms on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week. The Corps will parade on Wednesday evening, May 17th, at 19:30 hours at the T.O.C. Rooms. This will be a work parade.

F.O. M. Chapin, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Chapin, has been transferred from Vulcan to Pearce, Alberta.

Those that haven't bought—well, as one member of the committee put it, "the Greeks have a word for it."

2 ARMY AND AIR

Physical education exercises followed the presentation of the flag, with the squadron being put through its paces by A.C. I. Clancione. This was a smart exhibition of fundamental drill exercises and physical fitness. Squad drill followed, with each flight demonstrating a complete knowledge of drill routines. Each manoeuvre was done with exceptional neatness worthy of a "Guards" regiment.

This concluded the drill exercises and the Cadets concluded with demonstrations of signalling and other duties in ground school during the winter.

Accompanying Wing Commander Douglas and R. O. Campney, K.C., was F. C. Routley, Cadet Liaison Officer.

George Williamson was the pilot of the amphibian, with other crew members being Sgt.-Major Dick Roberts and Cpl. McLeod.

Yesterday morning, members of the Kelowna Air Cadet Squadron were taken for "joy rides" prior to the departure of the ship for Vernon at 10:30 a.m. This "flip" was something that every Cadet looked forward to from the moment the "Goose" landed at the Aquatic float, and a perfect morning added to the thrill of the short trip over the lake.

Sgt.-Major Roberts missed the ship when it first moved away from its moorings, but to taking off for Vernon, but C.N.R. Representative E. Wilby grabbed a piece of 2x4 and padded the airman out to the ship in one of the Aquatic's boats, and the take-off followed without further incident.

Both the morning and afternoon inspections were smartened by the presence of the R.C.A. drum and bugle band from Vernon. Every effort to secure a band for the reviews had failed until Monday afternoon, when an officer from Vernon suggested that the Artillery might have a band in camp. Major Critchley was contacted and he phoned the O.C. of the regiment who immediately agreed to send the band down. Its presence added immeasurably to the marching and the ceremonies.

Outside of the parade to the oval in the morning, when inspecting officers took the salute in front of the Royal Anne Hotel, all marching was done on grass, and without the drums to make time, keeping step throughout the evolutions is no easy matter.

Both Wing Commander Douglas and Major Critchley expressed great satisfaction at the display of the Army and Air Cadets, which showed the intensive and efficient training received, and Kelowna is expected to rank high when the results are announced after all inspections are completed.

OKANAGAN CENTRE INSTITUTE MEETS

Report Made On Cemetery—Public Meeting Tomorrow Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute of Okanagan Centre was held on Tuesday afternoon, in the Community Hall. During the business session, W.I. Fred M. Bernau was elected delegate to the coming provincial conference, to be held in Vancouver at the end of this month. The committee appointed to visit the Okanagan Centre Cemetery and look over the condition of the fences, etc., reported and made the recommendation that a public meeting be called, as a fence is needed on one side of the acreage. As a result, notices are being posted for a meeting tomorrow night, Friday, in the Centre Community Hall.

Arrangements were made for a military night party, to be held on the evening of Friday, May 19, in the Hall. There will also be a stall of various articles for sale, and dancing will follow refreshments.

Miss Shirley Edmunds, of Fort William, Ont., is making a summer's visit with her aunt, and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. Macfarlane.

Miss Emilie deMontreuil spent the week-end at her home in Okanagan Mission.

BALL SEASON OPENS SUNDAY

Salmon Arm Nine Will Oppose Smart Kelowna Aggregation

There may be a shortage of peanuts, but the umpire's cry of "Play ball" will echo across the baseball diamond at the City Park oval next Sunday afternoon, when the first ball game of the season gets underway.

Salmon Arm will provide the opposition, and is reported to have a smart aggregation of diamond artists. The local club has been practising hard in spite of cool weather, and Manager Bill Moebes says Kelowna has the fastest club in the interior, with a couple of new players adding a lot to the team.

The game is scheduled for 2:30, and it is hoped that a big crowd of fans will be on hand for the opener.

SUPERFLUITY SHOP BUSY IN APRIL

The local Superfluity Shop, run by the Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter of the I.O.D.E. in conjunction with the local Red Cross committee, realized $162.85 for the month of April. It is hoped that the people of Kelowna will continue to donate to this worthwhile effort, as they have done since the opening of the shop. Since January, when the shop first opened, $507.40 has been cleared.

Various articles have been requested, including Coleman lamps, doll carriages, high chairs, vases and various articles of costume jewelry. All donations may be left at the Red Cross rooms, Bernard Avenue.

Polish refugees to the number of 5,750 have found a haven from persecution and war in Uganda, British East Africa. The majority of them are women and children, who have become, in the meantime, culturally self-supporting.

Many Valuable Prizes Donated By Okanagan Merchants And Individuals—Will Create Real Tourist Advertising For Valley

ANGLERS all up and down the Okanagan Lake are all set to fire the opening guns Sunday in the big $1,600 Okanagan Lake Rainbow Trout Derby, and all that is needed by the Isak Walton is a little co-operation from the finny prizes that they will be after in the lake.

Armed with $1,633.25 in prizes donated by Okanagan Valley merchants and individuals, the Derby committee is away to a flying start in a venture that promises to provide real tourist advertising for the Valley, as well as laying the foundation for fish cultural work, and a healthy start has been made on membership sales to assure a good turnout Sunday.

Not only the die-hards will share the spoils after the last fish has been weighed in next February 28. Anybody supporting the Derby through the purchase of membership tickets will participate. AS OTHERS SEE THE OKANAGAN

Down in the Annapolis Valley, in Nova Scotia, the apple growers are holding a series of meetings to discuss the erection of cold storage plants, the adoption of "central marketing," and other problems of the industry. The meetings are being held under the direction of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association. This body some months ago sent a delegation to the Okanagan and to Washington to study the apple marketing system in the west. The delegation went back to Nova Scotia quite convinced that the selling scheme in British Columbia should be adopted there.

The Kelowna Advertiser last week reported in detail two of the meetings. The stories made interesting reading as all the old objections brought out here against the adoption of the present system of selling apples in the east. In fact, changing the names of persons and places and one could almost believe he was reading an old copy of The Courier.

Some of the comments made by the men who visited the Okanagan will be of interest to our readers. They are reproduced herewith:

"I always wanted to go to B. C. and the Government paid my expenses—I would gladly pay my own expenses and if I put into practice what I saw there I would make no mistake—if there is any one who can be converted any other way, they had better spend their money and go there (to the Okanagan) and see for themselves."

"In Washington and B. C. all orchards are looking practically all alike. I believe that we will really have to take an interest and grow the right kind of a crop and handle it properly."

"In the Okanagan Valley they have co-operative marketing and they have a local Act, but they are now operating under the War Measures Act the same as we are. We could not find opposition to centralized marketing there even by arguing against it ourselves."

"I was impressed with the care that they take in growing their fruit so that it is fit to put in cold storage."

"Their trees were more vigorous than ours. They adhere to a policy of 35-40 years old—not over that. The bankers and he asked them what position the growers there were in financially, and we were told that they are getting letters from their head offices to the effect that they are not sending enough money to the growers—their finances are good. They have had central marketing for ten years."

Question: "What is their earliest apple to compete with N. S. apples?"

Answer: "Their first is the McIntosh. I am sure, though, we could sell them in the Prairie provinces ahead of theirs. We have the power, if we will to get there. If they want anything, they go after it as a body. If we continue in this old way, I fear greatly for the industry. I fear that we have got the chance, I believe we have 75 or 80 per cent of us, but there are those who oppose it."

Question: "What I would like to know is if the people whose orchards you visit were they prosperous—what did they look like, driving through the different localities?"

Answer: "Some people put their money in the banks, some in bonds, some in buildings. The report from the banks was true. Regarding the buildings, those people are growing apples, not roots or other things. I didn't see a cow, a hen or a pig, so there would not be the barns or out-buildings. I wouldn't say that the houses compared in size to ours of the Annapolis Valley as a whole. They were kept in repair. The average for the Valley was seven or eight acres per family of orchard. I noticed there were large orchards were a number of little overnight cabins which they used during the picking season for their help. They produced about 700 boxes to the acre and we were told that they made a living that way."

Another speaker: "One thing I noticed was their homes. I consider their homes are very much equal to ours. I saw many nice stucco houses built on the plan of the Southern States. I don't think there is any hesitation in saying that they are as good as ours. They have a three-story house with their growers out there."

"In B. C. we ran into a man who is one of the oldest growers there, over eighty years of age, suppose to be the largest owner of McIntosh alone. We asked him his views on cold storage. He said that some ten years before he had cold storage he was fearful and ashamed to ship his apples. He said that he had before the war, every broker over there, was charging different rates, and also the rebate—we can save all of these changes under central marketing. B. C. are now getting theirs sold for $10.00 per car and not the fraction of the claims. We can all work together and have central marketing and we will have cold storage too."

"There is a strong market in some sections for boxes and in others for barrels. I do believe that, in order to keep the B. C. apples out of the East, in order to do that job successfully we have got to have the box pack."

ELLISON

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Clement and family and Mrs. Gus Macdonnell are spending a two weeks holiday at the Coast.

Mrs. Len Piddocke was up to Vernon last Friday to see her sister, Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith, and a newly arrived niece.

The Ellison School pupils were taken for a nature hike last Friday by the two teachers, Mrs. Clayton and Miss Fairley. The older pupils went up to the Sunset Ranch and all had a good outing.

Mrs. J. Gamble and her two daughters have returned from a trip to Tacoma, where Mrs. Gamble's sister, Mrs. Grace Peterson, resides.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley and Mr. Warner, of Armstrong, were down to see Herb Ripley and Miss Verrier last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Quesnel, of Lumby, were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pollard last week, and they all went to Penticton for the week-end.

Jack Scott has his cousin, L.A.C. Jim Scott, R.A.F., spending his furlough at his home. L.A.C. Scott is stationed at Penticton, Alberta, and has been in Canada for a year on the instructional staff.

Little fires grow into big ones—all them while they are young. Little trees grow into big ones—protect them while they are young.

McIntosh after the first of November, and that today he could do it quite cheerfully on February 1st."

Association Given Credit
"One thing we learned in B. C. is that the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association was given the credit of bringing about the improvements in the situation there. The war may have had some little things to do with their improved position. They have 58 per cent capacity of a full crop. The fruit growers' locals are the key and foundation of this organization. These locals appoint a delegate for every 50 members to attend the annual meeting of the Association and they vote as their association wants."

"In B. C. they have advantages and we have advantages—on transportation we have them—the cost to put a box of B. C. apples in Halifax is 66 cents and for the local market is 62 cents, where ours would be about 7 cents. They have some advantage on color but our flavor is superior; they haven't any spot but they have the codling moth."

After the War, What?
"If we are going to have these quotas after the war, we don't want British Columbia sending their apples down here to Nova Scotia at a high price and we sending our apples to the masses at 50 cents per barrel."

"We cannot expect to put our apples on the markets that have gone dead on as at Christmas, not today, when they can buy B. C. apples as crisp in February as ours when they came off the tree—we can't meet that competition."

"The price of an acre of orchard was asked, and we learned that you couldn't buy an acre in bearing shape at $1,000 per acre."

Question: "Which is more important, central marketing or cold storage?"

Answer: "I don't think there is any question which is the more important. I think if the growers work together, central marketing is the one important thing we need in this Valley and the cold storage will follow. Under the old system we had before the war, every broker over there, was charging different rates, and also the rebate—we can save all of these changes under central marketing. B. C. are now getting theirs sold for $10.00 per car and not the fraction of the claims. We can all work together and have central marketing and we will have cold storage too."

"There is a strong market in some sections for boxes and in others for barrels. I do believe that, in order to keep the B. C. apples out of the East, in order to do that job successfully we have got to have the box pack."

The savings effort of the British home front has increased steadily throughout the war, despite the immense increase in all forms of taxation during the same period. In all, a total of more than $26,000,000,000 has been subscribed—an average of more than $560 for each man, woman and child in Britain.

Preview Of New Products At Merchandising Exposition

Science Offers Many Surprises And Improvements

Retail merchandising, already benefiting from extensive chemical research in packaging, had an even more glossy future mapped out for itself at the recent annual Packaging Exposition in Chicago.

Chemists and researchers glanced up from their war projects to show briefly what's in store for the corner store and for many wholesale uses as well.

The Cellophane Division of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. displayed packages designed with attention to six major aspects of merchandising: self-service, informative labelling, "impulse buying," convenience, visibility and protection.

"Wrapped in cellophane," as a household phrase, will be extended to compressed gases, waffle-mixers, fruit-juice crystals, and even hard-boiled eggs, bolts and small parts. Sheets, towels, men's shirts and other items which had already made commercial appearance in the visible and dustproof wrapper, will multiply in number, it was indicated.

Cellophane's chief job in wartime is packaging army rations and Lend-Lease food shipments, as well as other military equipment. Lessons learned during the war promise profit for peacetime uses, the researchers said.

Unusual Sponges
Other du Pont refinements just disclosed include a cellulose sponge which, aboard aircraft, mops up fires before they start. Delicately treated to absorb gasoline but not water or any other thicker liquid, the sponge is placed in a living of bombs around self-sealing fuel tanks. If enemy bullets puncture a tank, the sponge will sop up the liquid that escapes before the tank reveals.

Untreated sponges of wood-pulp origin, the basic material also of rayon and cellophane, are of course being used in great quantities to wash and clean planes, tanks and jeeps, and even sponge down the remaining army horses and mules. Fine-pore sponges are employed to polish glass, and others are used to dab make-up in camouflage soldiers.

Electrical Condensers
Electricity-conducting coatings for commercial condensers are now being made of a new ceramic composition. The condenser may now be made more cheaply of glass, porcelain, or even stone, wood, cloth or paper, so long as it is dipped, brushed or baked with the new du Pont coating, in cement, cloth or film form.

New Film Emulsion
Greater clarity of screen images and less "surface noise," inherent in motion-picture film, have been achieved by a finer grain emulsion developed by du Pont, which recently won the scientific award of Arts and Sciences.

"Dry Water" At Work
"Dry water" has been devised at Pennsylvania State College to flush out oil or natural gas wells that have become filled with water.

This seeming paradox resulted from an industrial demand to do something about the large number of wells which recede from commercial use because of seepage. The mixture contains a little acetone and ether, which makes a natural water drier, or increases its evaporating rate. The well is pumped as dry as possible, and the mixture is then pumped in. It flows into the well walls to dry up the pores in the sand. The natural gas back in the surrounding strata also increases the evaporating rate of the water. Soon the sand is dry and the flow of water and the natural gas flows back into the well.

One well of 1,000,000 cubic feet capacity came back to 98.8 per cent of its flow, thanks to the mixture. The mixture was used in the case of a well in the United States, owned by Samuel T. Yuster, Associate Professor of Petroleum and Natural Gas Engineering at Pennsylvania State College, and K. J. Sonney, of the United Natural Gas Company, Oil City, Pa.

Ancient Wax Process
A "lost" wax process, which General Electric engineers say was used in the sixteenth century to make fine violins, is now being used to help cast high-altitude superchargers.

Metal buckets of the gas turbine that drives the supercharger of a bombing plane are now cast in plaster moulds which themselves are made from wax moulds. The buckets must operate at high temperatures, and therefore are hard to forge or machine. When the plaster mould has settled, the wax drops away under a heat treatment, and the surface of the plaster is left so smooth that the bucket product need not be machined.

Miles Per Log
In a post-war program for southern pine, recommendation was made to use wood as fuel for motor vehicles, which, in the case of 5,000 school buses alone, would allegedly save the State of North Carolina $1,000,000 a year.

Egon Glesinger, Swedish authority, in his survey, said a bus, using 10 gallons of gasoline per 100 miles and running 20,000 miles a year, burns 2,000 gallons of gasoline at 20 cents a gallon, or $400. Equipped with a charcoal generator, the same bus would burn 1,000 bushels of charcoal at 20 cents, or $200.

An average farm tractor requiring 1,200 gallons of gasoline annually could run on 12 cords of heavy hardwoods, he said, and save the owner $200 a year. Generators weighing less than 100 pounds are now being manufactured, he stated, pointing to wide use of the charcoal system by necessity in other countries.

The war effort of the British people increases with every year of war. This is well illustrated by their record in small savings. For every Savings Stamp and gift token bought in 1940, eight were bought in 1943. Small savers holding Certificates total 17,000,000, which is over 50 per cent of the entire British adult population. Over half the 1943 savings total was contributed by small savers. There was a similar increase in large savers.

At a late hour last Wednesday night, May 4, a Vernon Assize court jury acquitted William Goetz of the murder of Emile J. Vanderpitte. The verdict marked the close of a trial that was packed with drama and conflicting testimony.

Last Christmas Eve a quarrel arose between the accused, Goetz, and his employer, who was the owner of the Regal Hotel in Oliver. In a scuffle, Vanderpitte received a knife wound in his abdomen which ended his life a few minutes later.

The accused was a cripple who had lived with the Vanderpittes for many years both in Oliver and at the Coast. The quarrel began over alleged ill treatment by Vanderpitte of his small daughter, and there was no witness who actually saw the knife enter Vanderpitte's body.

The accused, defended by Harold McInnes, of Penikese, pleaded self-defence, and swore that he had not stabbed his employer and didn't know how he received the wound. He admitted picking up the knife to "scare Van away."

The trial marked the first assize presided over by Mr. Justice J. Wilson, lately elevated to the Supreme Court bench from the Cariboo County Court. It was the popular jurist's first murder trial and he charged the jury for over four hours. The verdict of "not guilty" was rendered after the 12 man jury had been out less than two hours.

A. L. McKim and W. H. Sands, of Kelowna, were jury members. Gordon Lindsay was the Crown Prosecutor.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"IMMUNIZATION"?
Peachland, B. C., May 4, 1944.
To the Editor, Kelowna Courier:
The word "immunization" is defined by dictionaries as "security from contagion." It heads an advertisement in your current issue, offering injections of drugs for various diseases which cleanliness and other virtues defeated as serious epidemics years before commercialism and superstition combined in a cruel campaign cultivating fear in the general public—commercialism thus batten on the nervousness of fellow-citizens.

So successful from the commercial standpoint has this racket become that any self-styled "research worker" inside or outside any medical school can launch on the market a pseudo-cure for ANYTHING! And, astonishingly, get away with it! At this well-known fact Arnold Bennett poked gentle fun in a novel, where the hero invents a cure for sea-sickness, consisting of chocolate and lemon juice! And becomes speedily a millionaire!

A footnote to the current notice naively offers "reinforcing doses" (sic) for those previously immunized (or secured from contagion) by Dose 1, 2 or 3! When does the "immunization" begin?

King George's physician, an honest, natural-scientist, declared in a vitally important speech publicized by the Reader's Digest about November, 1936, that whereas ALL drugs are in each individual case experimental, NO doctor could know what individual reaction might be or what harm done by any. Many "new" diseases are traceable to the uncontrollable activities of experimental drugs—cases of paralysis due definitely to some widely advertised as cures for far less serious conditions in the credulous victim. What, indeed, is to stop any poison from roaming throughout the blood-stream, which circulates eleven times in any minute or is it second?

CLEANS DIRTY HANDS

SERVING CANADA in WAR and PEACE

[The 63rd Annual Meeting of Canadian Pacific Shareholders was held in Montreal on May 3rd, 1944.]

Remember how pleasant it used to be to travel on Canadian Pacific trains and ships . . . to stay at Canadian Pacific hotels and resorts?

That was before Hitler unleashed his mad ambitions. It's different now. It has to be—for the World's Greatest Travel System has a big war job to do—and is doing it with characteristic efficiency.

When that job is done—and peace returns—Canadian Pacific will be ready to serve you as before . . . and even more completely.

Already plans are being made for the construction of new, improved locomotives and coaches . . . sleeping cars . . . parlor cars . . . diners; for the improvement of roadbed and tracks; for the renovation of stations and hotels; for the building of a new fleet of ocean vessels to replace those lost in war service.

This post-war program means much more than the mere restoration of pre-war travel facilities. It means the introduction of travel on a new scale of comfort, convenience and speed!

And more than that. It means a substantial amount of post-war employment and prosperity all over the Dominion, because the program itself will provide years of steady work at good wages for tens of thousands of Canadians.

This is one way in which Canadian Pacific is planning to meet the challenge of peace—while continuing to do a vital war job at home and abroad.

Canadian Pacific

THE WORLD'S GREATEST TRAVEL SYSTEM

CANADIAN PACIFIC PRODUCT OF FREE ENTERPRISE

LOYALLY AND EFFICIENTLY serving Canada for 63 years, the Canadian Pacific exemplifies the initiative and resource of free Canadian enterprise. The Dominion's first transcontinental railway, it was pushed to completion by a group of farseeing citizens who backed their faith in Canada's future with their personal fortunes. Thus, Canadian Pacific has played a major role in the development of the Dominion.

THE WARTIME ACTIVITIES of Canadian Pacific have been indispensable to Canada's contribution to victory. Rail freight traffic has doubled and passenger traffic has increased threefold compared with peacetime.

Canadian Pacific's ocean fleets on the Atlantic and the Pacific have been at the service of the United Nations since the outbreak of the war.

From Canadian Pacific shops have come tanks, guns and other munitions of war to a total value of $125,000,000. Today approximately 18,000 Canadian Pacific employees are serving in the Armed Forces.

CANADIAN PACIFIC is rightly proud of these records, made possible by the free association of three important groups, each contributing vitally to mutual Canadian interests:

ITS PATRONS—throughout Canada and many other parts of the world.

ITS EMPLOYEES—totalling over 75,000, whose wages and working conditions set a high standard for Canadian labor.

ITS SECURITY AND STOCKHOLDERS—numbering more than 200,000, who have risked their savings as evidence of their faith in the Canadian system of free enterprise.

JAYBEES SEEK COUNCIL HELP

Need Place To Store Salvage Paper

The City Council on Monday night received a letter from the Kelowna Junior Board of Trade asking the Council's assistance in obtaining some suitable space to store salvage paper which that organization is collecting for war purposes.

The letter pointed out that there was a continued and urgent appeal being made in Canada for paper salvage, but that the lack of adequate storage facilities.

The City Council took the matter under advisement but had little hope that it could assist the Jaybees.

for fears on that score.

On the other side of the picture, if a week or two of rain should develop, flood conditions would occur in short order.

Summing up the situation, it appears that, apart from abnormal weather conditions during the next two weeks, there will be sufficient water for all irrigation use throughout the summer months.

JAYBEES DINE, DANCE WIVES

The Kelowna Junior Board of Trade members entertained their wives at a dinner-dance meeting on Wednesday evening in the Canadian Legion Hall. The business session was cut to a minimum to provide ample time for an extensive program of entertainment. R. P. MacLean told some of the experiences and highlights of his recent visit to Britain. The dance music was supplied by Carl Dunaway and his orchestra.

"Cheers were given for the Rector, for the use of the barn, and for the ladies who prepared the tea, but perhaps the loudest cheers of all came from those whose kind gifts had made the tea possible.

"A week later we had a further treat. After a very amusing picture show, we were entertained by a concert party which included a conjuror, a mimic and two splendid singers with banjo and accordion.

CITY COUNCIL GETS SURPRISE

The City Council was rather surprised on Monday night to learn that a letter had been received from the Alberni High School asking for the scheme it had used to curtail juvenile delinquency in this city.

The writer stated he understood that Kelowna had been marvellously successful in this regard, through the operation of its civic centre.

Council members gasped and hurriedly decided to reply that they were not in a position to speak with authority on the matter at this time.

Since the beginning of the war, 41,000 officers and men of the Royal Navy have been lost—30 per cent of its pre-war strength.

MARCH WAR SAVINGS SHOW GOOD TOTAL

Kelowna Area Invested $9,111
in Month to Maintain Record

Kelowna is maintaining its purchases of War Savings Certificates, according to the figures for March which were received from Ottawa this week. In that month the people of Kelowna invested $9,111.25 in War Savings Certificates and Stamps. This means that in seven and a half years the people of this district will receive $10,933.50 in cash for their present investment in the future of Canada—a nice Christmas present for 1951.

A breakdown of the figures shows that the banks sold Certificates over the counter, 34, for $250, while Certificates bought through the banks and Ottawa totalled $3,800. In addition, the banks, through bank pledges on savings accounts, accounted for 282 more, representing $1,804. The bank total, therefore, was $5,940. Payroll deductions purchased 334 Certificates for $2,148, while 15 Certificates were sold by the post office of the district for $600. The total Certificate sale, therefore, was $8,688. In the city, $319 was invested in War Savings Stamps, while in the rural area the amount was $143.25, making a stamp sale total of $962.25. Sale of Certificates and Stamps together represent an investment of $9,111.25 for the month of March.

ARMY CADETS SPONSORED BY ROTARIANS

Local Service Club Gets Behind School Cadet Corps

The Kelowna Rotary Club has agreed to sponsor the Kelowna Army Cadet Corps, and a special committee has been formed to handle the job. In addition to financial assistance which will be forthcoming for uniforms and other equipment, the club committee and the general membership intend to take an active interest in corps members and give them a helping hand whenever it is needed.

The Kelowna Gyros have materially assisted the Air Cadet squadron in its work, and sponsorship of the Army Cadet corps by the Rotary Club will follow a similar course.

The Navy Wins Fresh Glory

The loss last week of the fine new Canadian tribal destroyer Athabaskan is a fresh reminder of the heroic part which the Canadian Navy has played in the present war. Destroyers lost include the Fraser, Margaree, Saguenay, Ottawa, St. Croix and Athabaskan. Other naval vessels sunk have been the minesweepers Bras d'Or and Chedabucto, the corvettes Levis, Windflower, Spikenard, Charlottetown, Louisbourg and Weyburn, and the patrol vessels Otter and Raccoon. The total casualties now approach 1,400, of whom between 1,100 and 1,200 are listed as killed.

At the beginning of the war the whole personnel of the Navy numbered only about 1,700. Today 80,000 men and women are serving in it. The pre-war Navy had 15 ships. Today there are more than 700, of which 250 are combat ships.

The Athabaskan went down fighting after an engagement from which she did not withdraw although twice hit before the final torpedo broke off her stern and sent her to the bottom.

PRAIRIE RAINFALL VERY LIGHT

Crop Prospects On Prairies Affect Okanagan Prosperity

Weather conditions on the prairies are of interest to the Okanagan as they reflect the purchasing power of those areas which are dependent upon to consume a considerable portion of our apple crop. This year, with a large crop in prospect here, the prairie conditions are even more important than usual.

Actually, conditions on the prairies are not too good. In most parts there has been very little rainfall and, as there was little snow during the winter, the moisture situation is beginning to be quite serious. In some sections of Manitoba the moisture deficiencies range from 55 to 75 per cent below normal, and in other areas it is a little less, being between thirty and thirty-five per cent low. In all Manitoba moisture is below normal, excepting the north-western part.

In Saskatchewan, quite a lot of rain fell in the central and northern sections last week and precipitation since April 1 is now above normal over most of these sections. Excesses range from 25 to over 50 per cent in some districts and in a couple of areas is over a hundred per cent.

However, in the rest of the province, especially the south-eastern and western districts, there is still a deficiency. This ranges from forty to sixty-five per cent below normal. Some districts in Alberta have had no rain or only a very light snowfall, but in the Peace River district the rain has been slightly more than normal. Elsewhere in Alberta the deficiencies range from 35 to 75 per cent or more below normal.

In the three prairie provinces, central and northern Saskatchewan have been the most favored districts. These have had, generally speaking, more rainfall than normal.

CITY GRANTS TRADE LICENCES

Several trade licences were granted by the City Council on Monday night. They included a licence to operate as an electrical contractor, issued to H. A. Foulds, who will operate at 261 Pender.

A licence was issued to F. G. Meredith to sell hearing aids. He will operate from the Royal Anne Hotel. His licence fee of $50 accompanied the application.

Bankhead Orchards Ltd. were granted a licence to spray fruit trees.

Big fires from little seedlings grow. Big fires from little campfires grow.

OFFICERS ARE ENTERTAINED

Army and Air Force Personnel Guests of School Trustees

Officers and officials who came to Kelowna in connection with the annual inspection of the local Army and Air Cadet corps were entertained at dinner by the Board of School Trustees on Tuesday evening, at the Royal Anne.

The affair was strictly informal. C. Hubbard acted as chairman in the absence of Board Chairman D. Chapman. The remarks were brief. Mr. Hubbard welcomed the visitors and said that the local School Board was solidly behind the cadet training program, as it believed it taught the boys self-discipline, a trait which they needed greatly if they were to grow into responsible citizens.

On behalf of the School Board, he expressed appreciation of the work of the local Gyro Club in fathering the local Air Cadet squadron. This organization about one year ago took the Air Cadets under its wing and has played an important part in the success of the movement.

He announced that the Rotary Club had decided it would sponsor the Army Cadets of the local school. Mayor McKay welcomed the guests and said that, on behalf of the City Council, he could say that the work of the various cadet units is very valuable, as it taught the boys to be self-reliant and the value of discipline.

J. M. Brydon, School Board member, said that the day had been a real inspiration and showed that the boys were being moulded into real men. It is obvious, he said, that the boys with cadet training have many advantages over those who have not had cadet training.

Major W. R. Critchley, supervisor of Army Cadet training in British Columbia, said that all three branches of the service worked exceedingly well together and realized that they were all working for the welfare of the youth of the nation, making good citizens. He expressed his appreciation of the co-operation of the local School Board and of the high standard of the cadet units here.

Wing Commander Douglas, Air Cadet inspecting officer, spoke briefly, saying that the local squadron was quite the best they had seen.

R. O. Campney, K.C., Vancouver barrister and Air Cadet League of Canada representative, stated that the local squadron was a highly creditable unit, and that the boys could not help but benefit from the training which builds self-discipline and the rudiments of character. He expressed appreciation of the magnificent response for funds which this city made recently. Training youths to be good citizens, he said, is the nation's biggest job. Cadet training is one of the most effective forms of such training.

Others who spoke briefly were W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A., Ft. Licut. B. C. Routley, P. J. Kitley, O. C. local Air Cadets, and R. H. Savary, O. C. local Army Cadets.

Although factory output of farm machinery will be considerably greater than in 1943, rationing of farm machinery is still necessary, because the output will be only 80 per cent of the normal production and not nearly enough to fill all farm demands. Production of repair parts is 156 per cent of normal.

Mrs. F. Swanson and her daughter, Gladys, returned to Kelowna last week after spending a month's vacation visiting relatives in Palo Alto, California. Miss Swanson left on Monday to resume her duties at the Vancouver General Hospital.

Are YOU a Zombie?

I am pointing straight at

YOU!

Is your conscience clear?

Can you look yourself straight in the eye and say that you have bought Victory Bonds to the limit of your ability?

OF COURSE YOU CAN'T—and YOU know it!

Know what you are? You're a Zombie—one of those home defence soldiers at whom you have laughed. One of those chaps who is in uniform just because he has to be, but taking darned good care he is not getting near the sound of guns.

Yes, you're a Zombie. You have bought a token Victory Bond, but you have taken darned good care that you don't get into action enough to inconvenience your way of living. You're sliding out the EASY WAY.

But there are your sons and your neighbors' sons who haven't sought the easy way. They are flying in German skies and ploughing through Italian mud, or like the Athabaskan, seeking out the enemy in Canadian fighting ships.

But you prefer to be a Zombie.

God! What a conscience you must have!
